

71st Reg't

“Nemo Me Impune Laccessit”

Click here to enter text.

After Action Report

Dear 71st and North Carolina Highlanders,

Having successfully recovered from a brutal fall campaign that ended with the Battle of Camden, we rallied at the site of Widow Moore's Creek to show the rebels the power of Royal Authority in the colony of North Carolina, I am still not sure how well that worked.

Kirk as always arrived early and with the help of our comrades in the 84th set up camp alongside the 18th century road. In fact I arrived just as Kirk was returning with the rations for the weekend. We were soon joined by Kendall, Darcy, Luke, and Gunnar. Jimmy, who hereafter will be known as James for his hidden Jacobite sympathies, joined us in the morning. Don't worry there are many an old Jacobite in the ranks just don't tell Kirk!

We had a rainy and cold night and early morning, ah reminds me of the hielands! Kirk made a wonderful breakfast with his legendary Breakfast hash and Stew for Lunch. Saturday evening we met for dinner at Patriots hall and we celebrated the retirement of Superintendent Perez. Kirk presented him with a plate from the regiment.

Afterwards, Kirk delighted us with his stories of ghosts at the park as we strolled through the fog just after sundown! I think a few people had trouble sleeping afterwards! Thanks, Kirk!

Sunday was warmer and drier, we had a wonderful visit from David Garrigus, a good friend of the regiment. Oh! We also had two firing demos during the day which were much enjoyed by the crowds. We did not thankfully did not have to charge the Whig cannons, after 243 years it still ends the same way...badly!

This was the first event for Darcy, Gunnar, and Luke, hailing from the Carolina Backcountry. Despite the weather initially all faired quite well it seemed. We will attempt to train Luke in the ways of an officer, you know, wandering around aimlessly and looking confused. Several of us are already professionals at that in this regiment. Young Gunnar will take on the role of drummer at our next event.

I almost forgot! This was Kendall's third event. She pretended not to know us, but we voted her in anyway. Welcome to the regiment!

Our next event is the Latta Celtic festival. We will have both NCHR and 71st uniforms. Please ask Kirk or myself if you have a question about the uniforms for this event. The outlander party will of course be anything 1740s-1780s for us. Bring out your Jacobite cockades! God Save King James...Wait I mean George!

Gaelic Phrases

Refresh of some old favorites and a couple of new phrases.

Beannaich Dhe an Rìgh! bay-a-nah de an ree
God Bless the King or God Save the King

Slainte an Rhi! Cheers to the King

Ciamar a tha thu/sibh? (KEM-mer uh HA oo?)
How are you

Is mise _____. (is SMish-shuh _____.)
My name is _____.

Your Humble and Obedient Servant,

Denis Byrd
God Save the King!

